It is most important that ALL 'element' powered appliances MUST be listed here. This is to ensure you have enough power available. Total List of Appliances and Amps or Watts required. *If This Information Is Not Correct You May be required to withdraw from the Market Day

Please ensure that you request adequate power requirements to avoid disappointment. It is the responsibility of stallholders to provide all electrical leads. While we provide access to power, it may not necessarily be in your stall so we recommend a minimum of 20 metre extension cord to reach the nearest outlet and a power board if you require more than one outlet. All electrical items must be 'tested and tagged' by a competent person who holds the appropriate electrical work licence. An audit of electrical items will be conducted to ensure compliance with this essential safety standard.

Should you underestimate your requirements you may be refused additional power, and you may be liable for any callout fee for an electrician to attend site as a result of system overload.
